Pakistan Election Information Web Portal (PEIWP)

Dr. Abdul Basit, Chancellor, Preston University, receiving a token of research aims to analyze the state of community policing as well as civil society representatives to generate comprehensive interviews with officials from different sectors in Pakistan. Along with the information gathered, the project also seeks to identify factors that promote or hinder community policing.

With the support of the Friedrich Naumann Foundation, comprehensive materials about Local Government elections have been developed. A video of public information request was shared.

CPDI Initiates Countrywide Research on Community Policing

Points of Interest:

- Strengthening RTI Movement by Building National RTI Coalition
- Strengthening Transparency and Accountability Mechanism in KPK
-Improving Budget Allocation and Expenditure in Education
- Contributing to Development and Management for Their Districts
- Promoting Peace and Tolerance, Rule of Law, Transparency, and Accountability
- Developing partisanship and non-governmental organizations to work for the common man
- Submitting information requests under Punjab and Khyber Pakhtunkhwa right to information law for the federal public bodies
- Setting the process of information request under Punjab and Khyber Pakhtunkhwa right to information law for the federal public bodies
- Advertising and reviewing the developments pertaining to right to information and its implementation
- Encouraging youth to take a lead role in the promulgation of the Kyber Pakhtunkhwa Right to Information Act 2013
- Enhancing youth's role in implementing the Kyber Pakhtunkhwa Right to Information Act 2013
- Highlighting the importance of the right to information law
- Emphasizing that youth is a vital part of our society and can be helpful in promoting the right to information

In the month of December, four awareness training sessions on RTI with journalists and universities were held in Islamabad, Lahore, Abbottabad, and Mardan. The target participants were from NGOs, INGOs, and researchers. The event was organized by CPDI.

In the same month, a video was launched to promote awareness about the right to information. The video was broadcasted on various channels and platforms.

CPDI signed a Memorandum of Understanding with the Ministry of Information and Broadcasting to develop a website about the right to information. The website was launched soon.

Budget Documents on Websites after its Implementation

The implementation of the Punjab Right to Information Act 2013 was highlighted. The act demanded the submission of budget documents on websites.

CRTI demands extension of RTI to FATA

KP's right to information law fails to attract the attention of the public and user-friendly website.

Robust and inclusive right to information laws were enacted in 2013, 2014 offers challenges, firstly, in terms of implementation of these laws, secondly, in terms of promoting and enforcing the fundamental right to information.

Terrorism laws in Pakistan and South Asia, are currently under consideration.